PLANS LAID FOR SALE OF CHAUTAU-
QUA TICKETS

Meeting of Chautauqua Committee
Held Monday Evening—Settlement
Club Will Sell Tickets For Year—Privilege Is Let.

Quite an interesting meeting of the Chautauqua Executive Committee was held at the Chamber of Commerce building Monday evening when various committees were chosen and plans were laid for the distribution of the 600 tickets pledged for this year's meeting and for the sale of extra tickets for the annual meeting.

The Executive Committee is as follows: George Frank, Chairman; Judge H. P. Purnell, Vice Chairman; J. B. Wood, Clarence Mathews and Prof. W. J. Caplinger.

An arrangement was made with the Maysville Settlement Club, whose chairman is Miss Zorayda Cochran, to deliver the 600 tickets pledged at last year's Chautauqua for this season and to sell other tickets. These young women will begin this week to deliver the pledge tickets and the ticket sale generally will open next week when it is expected that season tickets will be sold to all who plan to attend the Chautauqua and the attendance this year should be much larger than heretofore.

Heads of committees were elected as follows: Grounds Committee, C. T. Brown; Publicity Committee, Carl Dodds; Junior Chautauqua Committee, Miss Hurd; Finance Committee, S. F. Reed.

Mr. Ross Carrigan, who has so successfully conducted the soft drink booths at the park during Chautauqua week for several years, will be given this privilege this year and Mr. Myron Merz will be the Business Agent of the General Committee in looking after the committee's interest at the gate and at the various park concessions.

TUNES--TIRES

Tires, they are, and tires they be,
Tires for you to come and see,
Seeing you'll buy, it's the tube that counts
You'll get it for nothing, thought the price still mounts.

Maybe you don't like our tune, but then, even at that, we think we are an improvement over the epitaph in the old English churchyard:

"Here lies the body of Thomas Woodhen,
The kindest of husbands and the best of men."

Directly beneath is this explanation:

"His name was Woodcock, but it wouldn't come in rhyme."

But, the fact remains, we have rubber tires to sell. In order to make the fact sink into your brain—double quick—we offered to five of you, FREE, with each and every tire, an inner tube. Are you on?

PROMINENT MINISTERS BEGAN CAREER IN THIS DISTRICT

Two of the Most Prominent Ministers in the Southern Baptist Convention, Now Advanced in Years, Here to Attend Bracken Association.

Two of the most prominent ministers in the Southern Baptist Convention passed through Maysville this morning en route to Germantown to attend the annual session of the Bracken Association of Baptists as a sort of home coming. Both of these ministers began their ministerial career in the bounds of Bracken Association and have not returned in many years.

These men are Dr. J. Pike Powers, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Knoxville, Tenn., and Dr. E. O. Ware, Secretary of the State Board of Missions of the state of Louisiana and editor of the Louisiana State Baptist newspaper.

Besides being pastor of one of the largest Baptist churches in the United States, Dr. J. Pike Powers is an author of much note and a famous lecturer. He began his ministerial career in this district having been ordained at the Augusta Baptist church many years ago. He organized the Mt. Sterling Baptist church and had much to do with the organization of other churches in this district.

Dr. E. O. Ware, is recognized as one of the leaders of the Baptist denomination in the Southland. He too, began his pastoral work in this Association, being ordained at the Two Lick Baptist church where the Association meets this year.

This visit of these two prominent ministers is a surprise in a way. They are both here just to look over the territory where they spent their young manhood and their participation in the annual association meeting will add much to making this year's meeting a wonderful success.

SWOPE'S ELECTION
CAUSES SENSATION
IN WASHINGTON

Overturn of Former Staunch Democratic District in Kentucky Is Given Important Interpretation.

Washington, August 5.—The election of a Republican to Congress in the Eighth district of Kentucky to succeed the late Harvey Helm has created the biggest political sensation of the year at the national capital. It was a startling political reversal and is leading administration spokesmen to wonder not only what has happened to the old Democratic ship but also what has happened to the League of Nations.

The overturn of this district, which was considered by Democratic leaders as reliable in its Democracy as any district in the country, is given a most sweeping interpretation here as indicating not only that the country is tired of Democratic rule nationally speaking, but is also opposed to the League of Nations. There is no doubt political experts say, that the election in the Eighth Kentucky district turned on national issues and that the League of Nations was a considerable factor.

This was the first Congressional election since President Wilson returned from France with the League of Nations covenant. The boosters of the league, expecting of course, that the Democratic candidate would be elected, had made all preparations to herald his election as the first expression of the American people in favor of the League of Nations, but all their publicity plans along that line were knocked in the head when word came that the Democratic candidate had been defeated.

King Swope, of Danville, the successful Republican candidate, is an opponent of the League of Nations covenant in its present form and now the senators who are fighting the league are getting ready to show that in their first expression, when they had an opportunity to make their views known at the ballot box, the people have said that they don't want the league, at least in the form submitted.

Republican leaders at Washington, under Chairman Fess, of the Republican congressional committee, all along the line, are more elated over the election of Mr. Swope than by anything that has happened for a long time.

Representative Charles F. Ogden, of Louisville, expressed the view that there is no longer any doubt that Kentucky is through with the present Democratic national administration.

"There is now every assurance that Kentucky is coming into the permanent Republican column," he said. "This election shows the widespread general opposition to the Democratic national administration that exists throughout Kentucky and the feeling that Republican policies are necessary in this critical period in the life of the country. If ever there was an election that was won on national issues this was one. Local questions scarcely figured at all. I might add that there is reflected in this victory the splendid capacity of the Republican State campaign chairman, Chesley H. Searcy."

KEEP THE BOY BUSY

A husky boy is always a cheerful and a very delightful fellow. He never gets into mischief and never worries old folks. The boy who is interested in club work is always a very husky person and one who accomplishes things that are very much worth while.

F. N. Barrett, who will speak at the Farmers' Community Meeting at Beechwood Park next week has charge of much of the Club Work and understands how to keep the boy busy. Parents who have boys and boys who have parents should attend the meeting and hear what Mr. Barrett has to say about Club Work in the State.

WATER SITUATION IS NOW
VERY ENCOURAGING

The water situation in Maysville is now very encouraging. There is a good supply of water in the reservoirs and the pumping is proceeding very successfully while a good gain is being made. The water now served the public is coming through the mains from the reservoirs and is being treated with lime and iron and chlorides. Experts from Louisville are expected here today to begin work at overhauling the large house pumps and the situation is now thought to be well in hand.

POLICE ALARM BOXES

OUR POLICY

To support such measures as are unquestionably for the good of Mason County as an entire community, rather than such propositions as are in favor of the individual interest, or of one section as against another. And likewise to earnestly and consistently oppose all things that are not for the good of the County as a whole.

MARTYRS IN COATS

Summer time is woman's time. Her manner of summer dress becomes her well and puts the ungentler sex in the background by contrast, says "Commerce and Finance."

The spectacle of a perspiring man in a hot coat dining opposite a woman in cool lawn or organdie does not redound to the everlasting glory of the male. No man can dominate the eye or give pleasure to the heart with a wilted collar or a damp spot the size of a soup on the back of a Palm Beach coat.

We believe in shirt sleeves. We believe this July is torrid enough to make anyone believe in them. And August is rushing toward us at the rate of twenty-four hours a day.

President Wilson might emphasize his concern for the sufferings of mankind to the Capitol to deliver his speeches in his shirt sleeves. His cabinet and all Washington should follow suit.

We ask the women of the country to countenance the uncoated male and to use their not inconsiderable wit to make them climb out of the furnace.

We ask men everywhere for the sake of the good appearance of the sex to be cool and comfortable this summer.

Finally, we ask the right person, whoever he or she may be, to persuade the delightful dobs and subdebs of our cities to visit the business districts some hot noon and pin a flower on every coatless hero. Then we shall hope.

The world has seen profounder upsets in men's dress than coat peeling, including the removal of lace from their sleeves and fancy patterns from their waist-coats. A well-shirted man without a coat is as attractive as a well-gowned woman without a coat. But the coated man fights the battle of life this summer under a sweltering and unnecessary handicap.

PACKERS TRY TO SHIFT PRICE BLAME

Senator Capper Says Big Packers Are Now Trying to Shift High Cost of Living Blame to Retailers.

Washington, August 4.—A bill designed to check the operations of food profiteers by assessing an excess profits tax upon food commodities is under consideration by Senator Capper of Kansas, as a first step in the reduction of the cost of living, he announced today.

There is a disposition upon the part of the large packers to shift the blame for high living costs to the retailers, a letter received by Senator Capper today from an official of Armour & Co. indicated. The Armour official declared that while the price of beef had been greatly lowered, the difference had been made up by increasing the price of hides. He advised Senator Capper to investigate the activities of retail shoe dealers and handlers of other byproducts.

In war-time the American Red Cross was concerned with military and civilian relief only insofar as it concerned the families of soldiers and sailors. In peace-time the Red Cross is to "mother" civilian communities as well. Nothing so safeguards the welfare of a community as to have a group of people trained to meet emergencies, trained to think clearly and calmly when accidents happen.

Civilian classes in First Aid must be taught by one of the regularly employed teachers who have taken the course, or under the supervision of a registered physician. In schools having a physical director the work is naturally delegated to that department. A Red Cross First Aid certificate is given to all who satisfactorily pass the examination.

To act intelligently when an accident happens, to give proper care to the victim of the accident until the physician arrives, to and the surgeon defitly if assistance is needed, and to arouse public opinion to the value of disease prevention through community hygiene — this is what the Red Cross First Aid teaches.

Five hundred thousand lives were lost in one year through the influenza epidemic. Eight hundred thousand men were rejected from military service because of physical disabilities.

These are a few of the health conditions preventable through the service of a Public Health Nurse. Every community that furnishes a trained registered nurse, educated for public health work, lessens the possibilities of epidemics and builds up the health of its citizens.

TO TRAIN ATHLETIC COACHES OF FUTURE

University of Illinois Announces Four Year Course and Degree—New Departure in Education.

Urbana, Ill.—The coming Camps, Staggs, Yosts, and Zuppkes—the athletic coaches of the future—will not be developed haphazardly. Instead of being educated for other professions and taking up coaching incidentally, the new coaches will have the benefit of four years' special training for their work and the prestige of a university degree.

That is the plan of the University of Illinois where a department of athletic coaching and physical education has been established. A four year course in coaching will open September 22. Those who complete it will receive the degrees of bachelor of science.

It is expected that many high school graduates interested in athletics will enroll.

The Illinois idea is new. No other university has recognized the importance of such education by offering a four year course and degree. "Patsy" Clark, famous Illinois athlete, just home from France, who was a member of the championship football and baseball teams of the A. E. F. and Maj. John L. Griffin, executive head of athletic activities in army training camps, formerly director of athletics at Drake University, have been engaged as instructors, in addition to the coaches of the Illinois varsity teams. George A. Huff, for twenty-four years director of athletics and baseball coach at Illinois, is the head of the new department.

The announcement of this course is an important sign of the trend of the times. Once the athletic coach was regarded by the college faculty as more or less of a necessary evil. Now it is realized that athletics and physical education must receive more emphasis in the universities, colleges and secondary schools of the country. That means that there must be trained men to direct this work.

$500 IN CASH PRIZES FOR OVERSEAS EXPERIENCES

Nearly every lad who went overseas has an interesting story to tell—pathetic, amusing, or tender—of some child in France. Perhaps it is little Pierre who crept in to eat with him at mess; or Marcelline whom he found, white-faced and terror-stricken, in the cellar of a ruined house; or Henri, whose father was killed in the trenches and whose mother was taken to Germany by the enemy; or it may have been Almee who insisted upon being adopted by the "Americaine". At any rate, there is always a story and a child.

For such stories as these, or simple ones telling of the friendship between the French child and the American soldier, 178 cash prizes are offered. Soldiers, sailors, marines, men and women who were in France during the war in any capacity, or their families, sweethearts or friends, are invited to compete for these prizes. Literary ability is not required. Anybody who can write a letter home can write well enough for the purpose of this contest. Conditions of the contest can be secured by writing "The Fatherless Children of France, Room 634, 410 S. Michigan Ave., Chicago." There is no expense attached to entering the contest which is open to anybody who wants to compete. Mothers, sisters, sweethearts and wives should turn over their letters from Bill or Tom or Jack which they have been so proudly treasuring, and hunt up the references to the little French children. Just some one little incident told simply in a letter may win a prize!

AMERICAN BUFFALOES ARE ON THE INCREASE

Agricultural Bill Passed by Congress Provides for Disposal of Surplus to Public Institutions.

Provision is made in the current agricultural appropriation act for the Secretary of Agriculture to give buffalo to municipalities and public institutions from any surplus which may exist in the herds now under the control of the Department of Agriculture. In order to aid in the propagation of the species the bill provides that animals may be sent to or exchanged with other owners of American bison. No provision is made to give them to individuals, and only one may be given to each municipality or public institution. This provision is made because of the surplus of bulls in some of the Department of Agriculture's buffalo herds, particularly the one in the Wichita National Forest and Game Preserve, in Oklahoma, and because the department is nearing the realization of the first stage in the preservation of the species—the acquisition of at least 1,000 head of buffalo by the Government.

There are approximately 7,000 buffalo in North America. Canada has something over 3,500, and the total number in the United States is more than 3,000. This is about seven times the number in the United States in 1889, when the first buffalo census was taken. Individuals in the United States own approximately 2,000 of the total number in this country. There are eight Government herds, six of which are under the control of the Department of Agriculture. The largest herd in this country is in charge of the Interior Department and is located in the Yellowstone National Park, where there are about 450 bison. The Smithsonian Institution now has a herd of 18 at the National Zoological Park, Washington, D. C.

The first herd of buffalo under the Department of Agriculture was established in 1906 on the Wichita National Forest and Game Preserve. The original herd consisted of 15 animals, the gift of the New York Zoological Society, and this has now increased to more than 100 animals without any outside additions. Two herds have been established in the past year, one in Sullys Hill Park, North Dakota, the other in the Pisgah National Game Preserve, North Carolina. The other herds supervised by the Department of Agriculture are located in the Montana National Bison Range; the Nebraska Reservation, Nebraska; and the Wind Cave Game Preserve, South Dakota. The plan of the department is to establish at least ten herds, widely distributed, in order to prevent the spread of any contagious disease, should it become uncontrollable in any of the herds.

HUNDREDS OF JEWS AT STARVATION POINT

Many Refugees on Way to America Are Facing Starvation in Japan and the Far East.

New York, Aug. 5.—Hundreds of Siberian Jewish refugees, attempting to make their way to America when the war began, have been stranded for months in Japan and other countries of the Far East and are now at the point of starvation, according to reports made public here today by the American Jewish Relief Committee. The Jewish relief system is now organized throughout the Orient.

These are the most pitiful of all the war refugees. They cannot go back to Russia, the land they left, because of the conditions there, the report states. They cannot go to America, the land toward which their faces were turned, since immigration from the Orient is held up at present. Some of them have been waiting almost five years for a boat. Among them are mothers, children, brothers, sisters and sweethearts of people in America and all are penniless and homeless.

A generous appropriation from the funds of the American Jewish Relief Committee and its allied organizations has just been cableled to the Orient to aid these unfortunate. They constitute one of the important charges against Jewish relief funds. Plans are being made to care for them during the remaining months of 1919 out of the $35,000,000 that the Jews of America are seeking this year for relief work in foreign countries. When conditions become more settled, the refugees will be repatriated or brought to this country.

ON MORAL MOVIES

(Communicated)

A few weeks since there was thrown upon the screen at one of our movie shows the announced "Uplifting," "Educational," "Moralizing," "Purifying," movie or moral rottenness called, "Fit to Win." I think some of the local keepers of consciences of many were called to witness the thing and to give their flat approval before the public was suffered to see it. The thing was so vile and disgusting that would make even that gay Lothario, Lord Byron, blush and apologize. The approval of the local censor board was, of course, forthcoming, and wives and daughters whose minds are presumably pure, rushed to see, hoping with their minds to "touch the pitch without being defiled." Our deeds are no higher than our thoughts. What we see and hear give origin to our thoughts. Seeing unclean things, our thoughts must be unclean.

Thank God, there was to be found in Maysville at least one Pulpit where in the moral courage was not wanting to warn its people to stay away, and in ringing terms to denounce the defining thing. If there were other Pulpits where such warning was sounded and such wise counsel given, we fail to learn of it.

Now, when the harm's done, I see that that infallible guide of the people's conscience in the State of Ohio, "The Ohio Board of Censors," has withdrawn its former approval of "Fit to Win." The devil laughs, and well he might.

Moral. Why can't our local censors and playhouse managers exercise their own notions of propriety and common decency, approving of only such pictures as will not offend the innocent and the clean of heart? The speaker of such vile things as are depicted in some of our movies would be ostracized from right thinking, polite society. God grant that other pulpits and other men ring with denunciation of such "Educational," morally rotten movies, until the public, with rectified consciences, keep aloof from such theaters.

"Moral uplift," "Education," "Sex hygiene," and all the latter day follies—what crimes are committed in thy name.

Why Central Can
Not Answer
Questions

The duty of the switchboard operator is to answer your number calls and get connections for you.

If she stopped to answer questions, the number of calls would pile up and the service would be delayed; this would be an injustice to the other subscribers.

When in response to a question, the operator says: "I will give you Chief Operator", she is obeying her instructions.

If you cannot find what you want in the telephone directory, ask the operator for "Chief Operator" and she will connect you with the "Chief Operator" where your questions will be promptly answered.

RAILROAD STRIKES MAY CAUSE MUCH HAVOC

Strike of C. & O. Railroad Men in Covington and Silver Grove Yards May Cause Serious Situation Along Main Line.

Machinists, boiler makers and car repairers at the Covington and Silver Grove yards on the C. & O. went on a strike this morning demanding an increase from 68 cents to 85 cents an hour. This strike may prove quite serious to Maysville and other cities along the main lines of the C. & O. If it becomes necessary to put into effect embargoes on this line as has been necessary on other lines.

It was learned Tuesday afternoon that because of a similar strike on the C. & O. of Indiana that line had found it necessary to place such strict embargoes that no food stuffs were coming into Cincinnati over that line. Because of this general strike condition throughout the north-eastern section of Kentucky, it was figured Tuesday evening there would be approximately 1230 men affected in this section of the state.
